It's The Morning Of Our Life

The sun has awakened another day, fresh and new, alive with challenges born overnight. Producing a chance to create a more awarding day than the one before. One filled with first, the challenge of learning, and secondly, being able to enjoy it with special additional activities. Activities which compose our student lives.

Student Life

Working for Pleasure?

Many students spend their spare time working for extra money. This can mean giving up extra-curricular activities. With jobs hard to find, students stay at a job regardless whether they like it or not. Students use their earnings for cars, dates, clothes, or maybe college tuition.

A new course offered this year, lets the student attend school in the morning and work the rest of the day. The job must be of a vocation chosen by the student to help them acquire on-the-job experience for future years.

Fashion Flux

The Fashions of "75" change as often as the weather.

Some styles are crazy and hard to believe, others real catchy and fun to wear. The hairstyles and clothes of the fifties dominated fashion trends.

Everyone with long and silky hair took chances and had it cut into shags, gypsies, curly, straight or just plain short hair.

It seems as the pants got longer, the shoes got bigger. Even sandals had heels and soles up to four inches high.

Jeans became an important outfit in the life of a Taylor student, mostly covered with patches. The more patches, the better the jeans.

Songs and dates changed too. More hard rock and less mellow music. Usually dates ended up at good ole McDonald's for weekend party plans or just plain out-of-school visiting.

Help is on the Way!

Many students detest study halls. Therefore, they look for jobs of helping others as assistants: gym, office, A.V., guidance, etc.

These students run errands for the person they work for. They relieve teachers of a lot of busy work such as typing tests, grading papers, and recording grades.

Besides these activities, gym assistants help set up equipment, officiate games and sometimes teach class when needed.

Assistants for A.V. take film projectors to the rooms needed and put the films in their right place in the A.V. room. All together, these students are a big help.

An early homecoming game prevented the past tradition of float competition and dampened the spirit of many students. However, there were various dress-up days and a caravan.

Tricycle and wagon races also aided in arousing spirit during homecoming week. Representatives from each class raced half-way around the track at a night-time bonfire. The winning team in the tricycle division was Susan Pochon and Grete Hoyer. Doug David and Wayne Morris won the wagon race.

The Rinky Dink Tromping Troop, consisting of high school band members made their annual appearance at the Powderpuff game. Juniors and sophomores were victorious in their powderpuff games. Each class elected two boys for powderpuff king from their class. Nominees were seniors Guido Gabriel and Dave Martin, juniors Eric Dillman and Mike Markley, sophomores Dana Samuels and Ron Dausch, and freshmen Joe Beason and Tom Westcott. Students backed their king candidate by "plunking" spare change into vote jars. Joe Beason managed to squeeze the most money out of students to receive the title of Powderpuff King.

There were really four teams in the donkey Basketball games, the Fireman, the Faculty, the seniors and last but not least, the donkeys. Although the donkeys were supposed to be teamed with the other teams, this was usually not the case.

The firemen won the overall battle with a record of 2-0. They were followed by the faculty with a record of 1-1 and the last place finishers were the seniors with a 0-1 record.

The firemen won the battle, but there was another team that should have received first place ribbon. You guessed it, the donkeys. They showed the most hustle and determination as they were really playing three teams at a time. The two teams playing against each other and a previously unmentioned team; "The Pooper Scoopers"

G) Dr. Essington receives his yearbook from editor, Marlene Tyler. H) Students got a bang out of the demonstrations of the various kinds of guitars. I) Students receive yearbooks at the Helio convo.

Convos: Both Good and Bad

The convocations this year ranged from a demonstration of the trampolin to a demonstration of the different kinds of guitars.

Although a few of the convo's were boring, they gave the students a pleasant break from the monotonies of school life; and quite possibly if you were extremely lucky, they could even have got students out of a test. If you found yourself suffering in the middle of a exceptionally boring convo, you shouldn't have despaired because both good and bad convo's are in the morning of your life.

There are basically two kinds of convo's, one that entertains and one that informs. Taylor had both kinds, although most were on the entertainment side. On the most part, Taylor's convos were exciting, informative and very interesting.

Exchange Club Sponsors Fifth Exchange Week

A slide program presented in the cafeteria started off International Week. Former foreign exchange students showed slides of their adventures abroad. Students attending the presentation were required to purchase stock for seventy-five cents a share.

On Friday, foreign exchange students staying in Indiana came to participate in International Day. Guided by Taylor students, they spoke to classes about their countries and answered any questions.

Concluding the week, Foreign Exchange Club sponsored a soc hop and carnival. Several booths were set up in the cafeteria to earn money for the foreign exchange program.

"Kiss" steals the Show

The Spring Follies were set up a little differently this year, and it was a turn for the best. The high school students watched the follies first, and then the Jr. High. With the follies lasting only an hour and thirty minutes per session, the follies organizers could only pick the very best acts.

The acts varies from an imitation of "KISS" to Miss Coyle dancing with a "Phrog". Other acts included the Wacky News Team, a soap opera, and numerous guitar and piano players. The Spring Follies traditionally ended with Joyce Bozworth leading in "Let There Be Peace On Earth." All in all, this year's follies were probably one of the best in Taylor's history.

"Beau and Arrow Ball" was the theme of the Valentine dance, sponsored by the senior class. Disregarding tradition, the seniors didn't sponsor a Christmas dance. The dance still much the same, held in the cafeteria, open to all high school students and their dates, was highlighted with the crowning of Miss Titan.

Members of the Miss Titan court were Cindy Babb, Sara Lynn, Fern Nielson, and Marlene Tyler. Karen Baer was crowned Miss Titan.

Murals, paper flowers, a key hole, and a lowered ceiling carried out the theme, Alice in Wonderland, of the 1975 Junior Senior Reception. With hard work and determination, the juniors made the prom a success. For the first time the prom was held at the Grotto. The 112 attending couples enjoyed a buffet dinner consisting of turkey, ham, and many vegetables. The Phil Drake band provided the entertainment. Following the reading of the class prophecies and wills, Jenny McMullen and Brian Maple were crowned Senior king and queen.

Titan Fans Show School Spirit

School spirit started slow this year, but slowly rose as the season got under way. As the Titans won four games going into the sectional, Tital spirit was probably at its highest point all year. Before the sectional, Taylor had its best pep session of the year. The senior class did a skit and some loyal Titan fans did a fine job of imitating the Huskies.

Titans; Before and After

The Taylor Titans playing some of its best basketball ever and also probably some of its worse, gave the Titan fans something to cheer about. The Titans, showing other RLC teams who really is number one, won the crown without a defeat.

The cheerleaders were also instrumental in the success by raising the fans' spirit, who in turn, cheered the Titans on.

It's The Mourning Of Our Life

The sun rises, another new day begins. Mourning brings new excitement and life, a chance to make today a better day than the one before. Yesterday we had alot to do, but now there is even more. There is new strength to meet that challenge of breaking that record you've been striving for so long. But with each new mourning, the dawn brings you fresh strength to attain that goal.

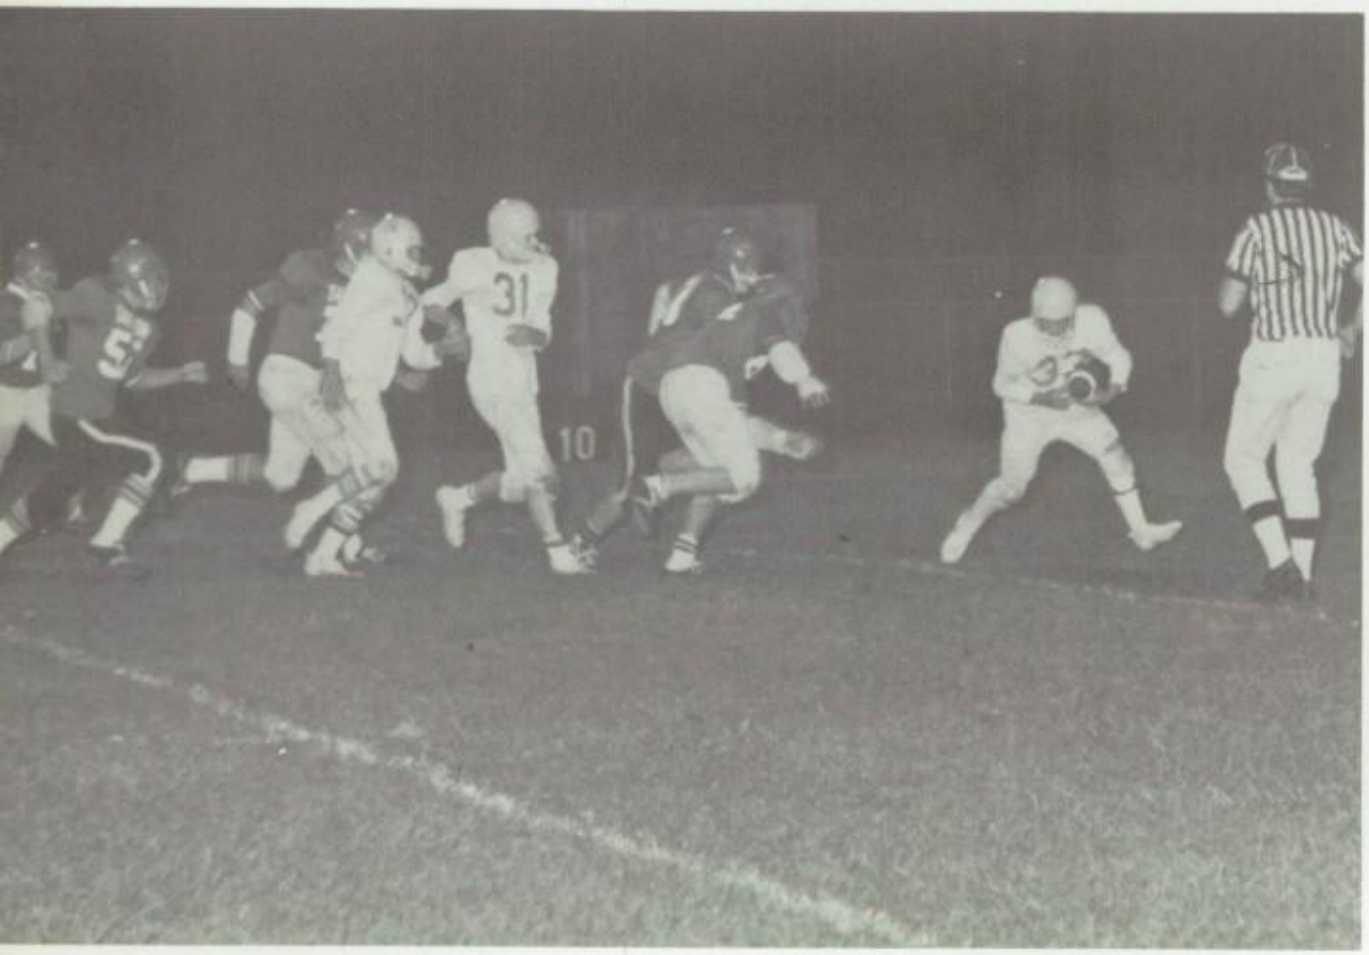
Reserves Have Undefeated Season



c

The reserve football team had a fantastic year finishing with a 7-0 record. Coach Ward's highlight of the season was when they defeated Tri Central 83-0, which was the most points ever scored by a Taylor team in a single game. Troy Holt was one of the outstanding players of the year, leading the team in scoring. Dana Samuals, another standout, was close behind finishing second in scoring. Coach Sheridan hopes to have the reserves back next year for the varsity.

Wrestlers Continue Winning Season

The Titan grapplers continued to have a winning season with a 7-2-1 dual meet record. The Squad, very young this year, should prove to be prospective next year. The Titans also had the Rally Squad as backers for the second straight year helping them through the season. This year's grapplettes were; M. Tyler, C. Babb, T. Johnson, J. Long, L. Reynolds, D. Appleton, S. Pochon, T. Long.

It's The Morning Of Our Life

Mornings are beautiful and refreshing things. Awakening every new thought in our brains, giving us the gracious opportunity to increase our knowledge. 'Our most important tool is given a fresh chance to develop little by little each day. A chance to make us more aware and more prepared to face the grand world in which we live.

Academics

Classes Take Surveys

Marriage and Family Living classes prepared and tabulated surveys for students views on dating and marriage. Given to selected classes, the survey showed most students date one person steady.

Clothing classes provided an opportunity for students to express individuality while at the same time save money. After last minute finishing touches, all the girls modeld their garments in a style show.

The foods classes enjoyed eating, as well as preparing the annual Thanksgiving Feast with turkey and all the trimmings.

Earth Science Course Offered

The science department offered a new course entitled Earth Science. Students taking the course studied weather, rocks, and gravity of all planets compared to earth.

BSCS become similar to ISCS Science, as students worked at their own pace. After performing experiments, they filled out notebooks and took tests over the chapters. Many different acids were used throughout the year.

Business Offers Many Courses

To the student interested, a wide variety of business courses are offered at Taylor. Two years of typing is possible, with only one semester required to graduate. Girls often interested in secretarial work attempt to "survive" two years of shorthand. The course also includes grammar and punctuation. Office Practice can be of valuable experience for future years.

Guys can "get into" business courses too. Among them are General Business, Recordkeeping, Accounting, Salesmanship, or Bookkeeping.

Art Class Helps Raise Spirit

Dramatics and English Lit. classes went to Indianapolis to see "The Taming of the Shrew" during school. There were many students who went and it proved to be a very interesting trip.

Mrs. Karavitis's Dramatics class put on a play for the elementary students as one of their projects. Mrs. McConnell's 7th grade English class also put on a skit for Halloween.

The phase electives made English a lot more interesting and they weren't as hard to struggle through. It gave people a chance to choose something they like. There weren't quite as many sleeping pupils!

The gym classes went on as usual except for the presence of a new piece of equipment. The Athletic Club bought a new reuther board because the old one made its last spring. The reuther board is used to mount the horse and the balance beam.

History Classes Get Break

Taking a break from the regular routine, U.S. History classes reenacted the trial of the Pullman Strike of 1894, Salem Witch Trials, and skits of factory workers during the 1920's. These extra activities gave each student a chance to get involved and provided a more enjoyable way of learning.

In Memorium

Mrs. Sandra Lee Cronk, former health and physical education instructor at Taylor passed away on February 28, 1975. She was the wife of Mr. Steven Cronk.

Mrs. Cronk was born May 4, 1948, in Peru, Indiana. She was the daughter of Eldon and Betty Shrock.

She attended school at Howard and Miami Elementary. In 1967, she graduated from Maconaqual High School. As an active student, Mrs. Cronk was a member of the National Honor Society, among other various activities.

Mrs. Cronk attended Huntington College and graduated in 1970, with a major in physical education and health. She was president of the Alpha Gamma Pi sorority and served as floor counselor.

She began teaching at Taylor in 1970. She taught health and physical education in grades 7 thru 9. Mrs. Cronk coached the junior high girl's track team, and sponsered the junior high cheerleaders. She also organized the junior high cheerblock. Due to her illness, she resigned her teaching position in August, 1974.

Mrs. Cronk was active in both church and social work as a young person and as an adult. She was a member of the Methodist church.

Mrs. Cronk will be sadly missed by all of us here at Taylor. We deeply appreciate everything she has done for us.

We would like to thank Mr. Cronk for providing us with the biographical material which we needed for this memorium.

In Memory of Mrs. Cronk

With the days numbered,
She became a symbol of faith,
Young and full of hope,
Living day by day, always a friendly smile and a helping hand.
Though she lived but a short time,
Her influence on us will continue to grow and linger on,
Even still she'll be missed by all

Don Edmonds Promoted to Principal

With the resignation of Bill W. Britton, Don Edmonds received a "principal" promotion. Morris Lewis former math teacher, assumed the responsibilities of assitant principal. Dr. Essington succeeded Mr. Fernaung as superintendent. Dr. Essington has a doctorate degree in Education and Administration. He graduated from Indiana University.

A new policy insitituted this year, gave each individual teacher the choice of allowing chewing gum in their classes much to the delight of the titans.

The Senior Class was one of the most active classes at Taylor High with the help of their super-sponsors Linda Donelson, Carol Moore, Ray Richardson, and Jesse Windlow. Occassionally the more energetic Seniors rolled out of bed very early for a Senior Breakfast. After one breakfast, the Seniors returned to school caravan—style, which subsequently led to the near arrest of Mr. Polk.

The powderpuff football team kept their record intact by losing their fourth consecutive game. The halftime score of 0-0 ignited fears that the Seniors might not be able to retain their perfect record, but "Ray's Rejects" came through with their annual defeat.

Mid-term graduates celebrated their last day of school by causing one of the many hall jams that occurred during the year.

The jam-packed athletic schedule ended the traditional Christmas Dance. Instead, the Seniors sponsored a Valentine Dance, "Beau and Arrow Ball".

Jerry Long Makes Final Address to Seniors

At 8:00 the graduating class of 1975 began assembling into the gymnasium. The National Anthem was sang, and Pastor Schreck gavé the invocation.

"We Cannot Discover New Oceans Unless We Have the Courage to Lose Sight of the Shore", the class motto, was brought out in the speeches made by Valedictorian, Ruth Schreck, and Salutatorian, Karen Baer.

The commencement exercises of the 1975 class were a little different than the previous graduation ceremonies at Taylor in that a guest speaker was not asked to address the seniors. The class decided to have a graduating senior, Jerry Long, speak.

It was a happy time yet also sad.

Activities Fill Senior Week

Senior Week was a very busy time for the graduates-to-be. First of all if you were one of the unlucky seniors, Monday was semester test day.

Wednesday was Honors Day. At 1:30 the scholarships and awards were presented.

Playday began at 10:00 Thursday. Most people played miniature golf, and Mrs. Donelson and Mrs. Moore kept their scores top secret. Huge bags of water were brought, and by 2:00, when the day was over, everyone was drenched.

Commencement practice began at 8:30 on Friday. The seniors received their final grade cards and began to grow a little sad. The Senior Luncheon followed at 12:00 at the International Smorgasbord.

The Senior Fling, held at the YWCA, started at 11:00 after graduation Sunday night and ended at 6:00 Monday morning.

Music to dance to was provided by a disc jockey from WIOU.

Names were drawn for door prizes, and silver dollars were awarded for winning different contests.

The activities open to everyone were swimming, basketball, volleyball, card games, and dancing. Everyone was also able to eat all they wanted of the good food that was prepared for them.

Monday morning a lot of the graduates went to the Big Wheel for a final breakfast together.

Although it may seem like the end of a happy time, it is really the morning of their lives; the best is yet to come.

Juniors Earn Money For Reception

Juniors started off the new year with magazine sales, a money making project for the Junior-Senior reception. The sales started on September 27, bringing in $1,232.57. The class of '76' also helped in selling concessions to help fund the reception.

Innovative sophomore class officers arranged for the class party to be held at the Y.W.C.A. Everyone had a wild, wet time, including Miss Cantrell. The sophomores paid for the party with the money earned by sponsering the coat check during basketball season.

The class of "77" anxiously awaited the month of October which brought the distribution of class rings.

The sophomore girls were victorious in Powder Puff football over the freshmen team with the score 7-0.

The freshmen had no trouble getting into the spirit of the high school routine. They were able to attend most high school pep sessions, where they were successful in adding to the school spirit. The class of '78' received class sweaters and class jackets in December. They enthusiastically waited for the ordering of class rings. Another event which took place in this busy year was a class party planned by the student body and class officers who are president—P.J. Noel, vice president—Tom Wescott, and secretary—Brent Synder.

Thespians

Presents

"Our Miss Brooks"

Thespians provide entertainment for people of all ages. They present two plays a year, one in the fall and one in the spring. The students who are in the plays must obtain a set number of points to remain in the club. The spring play was entitled "Our Miss Brooks". Stacy Hart portrayed a high school English teacher and play director who had her disagreements with the basketball coach on the use of the boys for practice and the gymnasium for rehearsals. After the final performance, the club members had a party at Mr. Lassiter's house. Mrs. Kenworthy assists with directing and stage set up.

Bible Club: (Row 1) B. Harris, Sponsor, Mr. Devore, R. Miller. (Row 2) H. Miller, M. Saunders.

Jr. High Student Council: (Row 1) P. Schreck, T. Lee, Dave Smith, M. Jarrett, C. Quinn. (Row 2) M. Karvitis, L. Delph, K. Fergerson, A. Burnett, D. Raber, M. Rodriguez, B. Kelley. (Row 3) K. Totten, J. McDonald, D. Wooldridge, C. Vasquez, M. Alexander, K. Shiflet, R. Hayes, S. Pizarek, K. Paulus, S. Boyd, A. Dalton.

The high school student council, sponsored by Mr. Jones, presented this year's Homecoming dance with the theme of "The Octopus Garden." It had an atmosphere of the deep sea. The band which entertained the students was the "Pairlementefetelics". To give an added effect they had their own dancers to help get things started. Student Council also sponsors the Spring Follies. This year the follies were presented twice, once for the high school and once for the junior high.

The junior high student council, sponsored by Mrs. Karavitis, gave the teachers a Christmas party. They also had a party entitled "The Spring Fling." This was a party for all students in junior high, where they could do whatever they wanted. Different types of games were provided.

The GAA became very active this year by selling pennants, electing new officers and expanding their program. They held their annual banquet on May 12 to give awards to those who earned valuable points.

Besides the hard work the girls put into all of their practices, the Pom-pom girls proved their abilities when performing at the half-times of the basketball and football games. These girls also competed with the band at Ball State and did rather well.

As spirit reached ebb-tide and then continued sinking lower, cheerleaders and cheerblock members worked long and franticly to revitalize Titan spirit. They tried innovations such as caravans, an adult cheerblock and seating fans on the opposite side of the gym. Response was great, spirit returned, and the basketball team rallied to end the season with four consecutive wins.

Band Competes at Ball State

Taylor hosted the Howard County Music Festival. This concert differs from most; all the county schools combine to make one band and choir. They practice many long and hard hours preparing for this special spring event. Under the direction of Mr. Stutesman and Mr. Rose, the band not only practices for performances but also takes written exams. In the spring, however, the band takes a break from these more taxing activities and heads for one of the local parks for their annual picnic. The Swing Choir performs for the Teen Breakfast Club, churches, and other various organizations.

Pep Band exhibits school spirit during pep session.

The foreign exchange club spent most of their effort on sending Kris Brittain to Venezuela and Monte Sanders to Mexico.

International week, sponsored by foreign exchange, consisted of a slide program, convocation, reception, and a soc-hop. A total of 63 exchange students from all over Indiana attended the final day of International Week. A carnival in the cafeteria added a little variety to Friday night's soc-hop.

The History club sold consessions during basketball games to earn money. The money earned will go towards future trips.

Along with the G.A.A. the History club sponsored the "Superstars". The teams consisted of two boys, two girls and one adult. There were thirteen events: The centipede race, long jump, hitting the softball for distance, fact and information race, water balloon throw, pogo stick race, paper airplane throw, basketball free throw, bowling, bicycle race, obstacle course, and a rowing contest.

The first place winners, Michelle Martin's team, were allowed one open lunch hour. The second place winners, Sam Dyche's team, were allowed to be a half an hour late to their first hour class.

All the contestants thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Candy Stripers Volunteer their time.

Candy Stripers: (row 1) M. Lewellan, R. Bradley, K. Stooksberry, (row 2) B. Millard, G. Hoyer, J. Tyler, D. Free, (row 3) H. Miller, K. Malkoff, J. Stevens, R. Fetcher (row 4) J. Perterson, T. Hewitt, C. Pencek

Several high school girls volunteer their time working as candy stripers. These girls, after working at least twenty-five hours in hospitals receive their caps during a ceremony.

The Health Careers club visit many rehabilitation centers throughout the year. The girls enjoy giving their spare time to help others.

¿Qué Pasa?

The French Club did something a little different this year. For their trip, the went to a park called "Nothin Much Here", owned by Mr. Essex's parents. A hay ride and a cookout was enjoyed by those who participated.

The Spanish Club helped to send Kris Brittain, Raymond Stamper, and Monie Sanders to Latin America for three months this summer. The club also had a Christmas Party with all types of Spanish foods to munch on.

Astronomy Club: Steve Johnson, Teresa Pelgen, Raymond Fitzerald, Tom Silver, Tom Ayres, Fred Kuhlman, Sponsor, Mr. Wilson.

Kathy Hall, Cathy Hicks, and Denise Ungar, art club members, mastered the "art" of donkey diapering during the half-time of a donkey basketball game. For this great victory, the club received ten dollars.

The art show in the spring displayed talents of many of the students. The chess and astronmy clubs each completed their third successful year.

Each member of the undefeated chess team received a ranking. Mr. Rose met with the members weekly to review strategies. Just like other sports, the chessplayers spent hours practicing for a meet.

Observing constellations and selling zodiac posters are a few of the activities engaged in the Astronomy Club. Under the direction of Ray Wilson, members increased their knowledge of the science.

Cosand, Last Original Staff Member, Leaves

Jim Cosand was the last original member to leave the Onlooker staff. He started working on the staff in fifth grade and continued through his high school years.

The Onlooker people work hard to bring interesting news and important information to their readers.

Yearbooks take a lot of hard work and time to produce. I would like to thank all of the staff members for the many hours and hard work which they pulled together. I also want to give a big thank you to our sponser Mr. Gumz ftr having the patience to put up with us for the past two years. I would like to thank Mr. Larry Glaze, Our Paragon representative, for all his help. This year we received outside help from non-staff members, and I want to thank them also: Tom Badham for his aid in photography, Doug David, for his creative artwork, and McDonalds, for help financially.
